For colleges, universities and departments

Mrinal's Research Methodology Studio (for English Literature and Mass Communication) is a digital workshop for research: the research proposal, writing chapters, citations and bibliographies (APA, MLA, Chicago, Harvard), Word files in the formats of universities of Assam, fieldwork, text analysis, the theory library and checks. It suits research methodology coursework, MA dissertations and projects, and PhD scholars.

Why it suits institutions

- It works without the internet, on phones and computers.
- Students' work stays on their own devices; it does not go to a server.
- The studio never writes for students; it stresses research integrity and the declaration on the use of AI tools.
- A department can make its own format following its rules and give the format file to all its students.
